WELCOME TO WEST ALLIS

Thank you for bringing your business to the City of West Allis — The City at the Center. Our City's central location offers your business the prime opportunity to attract customers, to access the Milwaukee metro region, and to discover an unmatched labor force. To help facilitate the launch of your new business and expedite the business approval process, the City has prepared a general checklist. This guide will direct you through the various steps and necessary approvals you will need from City agencies, as you embark upon your new venture in our community.

The City of West Allis encourages you to open your business as expeditiously as possible. In many cases, as much as 80% or more, businesses are able to be approved for occupancy by simply completing an Occupancy Permit Application and basic permit review. The balance of businesses seeking occupancy requires a review that may take 45 to 60 days, depending on complete application.

Because it is the responsibility of each new business to complete the needed approvals before it can open, this checklist will help you avoid unnecessary delays. The requirements may vary according to the type of business you intend to start or expand, but the following five steps are a good guide to help you know what to expect.

APPROVAL PROCESS CHECKLIST

- 1 Prepare a Business Summary or develop a business plan that describes what service your business will perform.
- 2 Schedule a Planning Meeting with the Department of Development to discuss your business plan, proposed location, and zoning.
- 3 Submit an Occupancy Permit Application and fee to the Building Inspection and Neighborhood Services ("BINS Department"), and schedule a date for inspections.
- 4 Based on the Planning Meeting, the operations of the business or work to be performed, the following may or may not apply:
 - Special Use Review — Submit application(s) and review fee to the Planning Division within the Department of Development
 - Site, Landscaping and Architectural Review — Submit application with plans and review fee to the Planning Division within the Department of Development
 - Submit Building Permit Application and Fees to BINS.
Note: Your licensed contractor obtains the permits and calls for all inspections. Building Inspection and Neighborhood Services issues the Certificate of Occupancy and Zoning Compliance.
 - Signage Permits — Submit application plans and fees to Planning Division within Department of Development in order to receive signage approval and sign permits from department of development.
 - License Review and Approval — Submit applications directly through the City Clerk's Office to undergo proper license review and approval from the Common Council.
 - Food Related Establishment Approval — Consult with the City of West Allis Health Department for food related businesses approvals and codes.
- 5 Do you have your approvals?
- 6 Open Your Business!

ITEM TO COMPLETE: Create a Business Summary.

Step 2: SCHEDULE A PLANNING MEETING WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF DEVELOPMENT

Your business may have unique considerations or require certain permits or approvals. To assist you with planning your business and answer any questions about opening a business in the City of West Allis, we encourage you to contact the Department of Development for a Planning Meeting to discuss your Business Summary.

Before entering into a commercial lease and/or Contract to Purchase, you should consider the following:

- Are you planning a change of the established use for the property or business?
- Is the proposed business permitted in the location you have chosen?
- How will the proposed business relate to the neighborhood with regard to operations such as traffic, parking, trucking and deliveries, etc.?
- What improvements need to be made in order to make the property suitable for your business?

In the Planning Meeting, and with your business summary, we will discuss the following:

- Proposed business type and details about your venture
- Zoning requirements
- Proposed use conversions and special uses
- Interior or exterior renovations, if desired or necessary, and if an architect will need to be hired to design these renovations.

Exterior improvements require Plan Commission review and approval, and trigger full-site review

- Occupancy and building codes and permits
- Licensing requirements and approvals
- Ways to reach other City departments
- Other helpful topics such as signage requirements, driveway permits, etc.

From the basic consultation, the Department will determine:

YES, you can operate your business as planned at that address.

NO, you cannot operate your business as planned at that address.

YOU MAY BE ABLE to operate your business at that address if you obtain the specified permits and approvals and/or perform improvements.

Helpful Link:

For more information about a property, please visit:
www.westalliswi.gov.

Click "PROPERTY SEARCH" on left side of the web page. After submitting the property number and street name, the zoning information for the property will be displayed for you.

Step 2: SCHEDULE A PLANNING MEETING WITH THE DEPARTMENT OF DEVELOPMENT (cont.)

Zoning will be discussed during the Planning Meeting. Zoning is a tool by which land in a community is divided into distinct districts in order to regulate where business activities and residential uses can occur. The purpose of zoning is to preserve the essential character and orderliness of the city. Designating the use of property in this manner allows the City of West Allis to create the optimal mix of business, industrial and residential areas within the context of pedestrian and vehicular traffic and related activities.

You will need to know the zoning of your location so you can determine whether your business activity is permitted by existing regulations. Each zoning district allows for uses by right as well as uses for which a Special Use Permit must be obtained. Further, if you expand or change your business use (e.g., create an outdoor patio, add a drive-thru, decide to offer classes, etc.), zoning considerations might apply.

The Planning Meeting is available to guide you through the approval process successfully. Each business has individual needs that may involve additional permits and license approvals. You will be advised on what additional approvals are required for your particular business and the most efficient order for the approval process.

☑ ITEM TO COMPLETE: Schedule a Planning Meeting with the Department of Development.

Step 3: SEEK INSPECTIONS AND OBTAIN BUSINESS OCCUPANCY PERMIT

A Business Occupancy Permit must be issued before you can operate your business. Most permitted businesses and uses are approved at this phase, if no construction is planned. If your business is only changing ownership, a new Business Occupancy Permit must still be issued under the new ownership's (your) name.

The Business Occupancy Permit is applied for within the Building Inspection and Neighborhood Services Department (BINS). The process to secure a permit involves a review of the proposed use for zoning code compliance, as well as inspection of the physical site and premises by the following inspectors:

Building Inspector
Electrical Inspector
Plumbing Inspector
Health Inspector
Fire Inspector
Zoning Inspector

Applications are submitted to BINS with the required application fee. Upon submitting the application, you must be prepared to schedule a date and time for a site inspection. Typically, the inspection date will be about one week after filing the application to allow for the processing of zoning and scheduling of inspectors. The inspection will be scheduled for a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday between the hours of 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. or 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. Alternative inspection days can be scheduled by the Director of BINS.

The inspection process involves review of existing conditions for maintenance of building systems and discussion of whether the premise will be altered or remodeled in any fashion. Building, electrical, plumbing, fire and health inspectors must each approve the occupancy. If the premise is found to have problems, the inspector will send a written Notice of Correction to the applicant and the property owner. Inspectors may require additional permits and inspections for the corrective works list in the Notices.

When all work is complete and your business is ready to open, a final inspection is required. If no other permits or licenses are necessary, a Certificate of Occupancy is issued with inspection approvals from Building, Electrical, Plumbing, Health, Zoning and Fire.

CONDITIONAL OCCUPANCY

In some cases, Conditional Occupancy may be granted by the Director of BINS even though all inspection approvals have not been secured. Conditional Occupancy is granted only after review of the outstanding code problems with specific regard to life and safety and upon receipt of written request from the applicant or property owner indicating when ultimate compliance will be fulfilled. There is a $100 fee for issuance of a Conditional Occupancy.

www.westallis.gov/BINS

 ITEM TO COMPLETE: Submit Occupancy Inspection Application with required fee to Department of Building Inspection and Neighborhood Services.

Step 4: APPLY FOR SITE, LANDSCAPING AND ARCHITECTURAL REVIEW

Projects making exterior modifications or site changes require a review of those alterations. This is designed to ensure quality design and architecture, foster improvements that are consistent with the character and scale of the community and enhance the overall urban fabric of the city. Increased landscaping, improved pedestrian access, well-designed lighting and strategic screening, including refuse enclosures, support West Allis' vision as a great place to live and do business. The steps of the approval process include:

- On the last Friday of the month, the Planning Division must receive the following:

- ✓ A completed Planning Application
- ✓ A description of the project
- ✓ An electronic version of scaled plans and one hard copy
- ✓ Required review fees

- Planning Division staff will review the materials and consult with the applicant regarding any additional information needed.

- Cases involving businesses or uses that could have an impact on a neighborhood (e.g. restaurants, schools, automotive repair shops, etc.) may require a Special Use Permit with a public hearing in front of the Common Council. The review period for a Special Use Permit is 45 to 60 days.
- Projects are presented to the Plan Commission on the fourth Wednesday of each month.
- Certain projects require Plan Commission review and Special Uses require Common Council approval.
- After Plan Commission review and approval, a Conditional Approval letter is provided to the applicant and property owner detailing the conditions that must be satisfied and revised plans prior to obtaining permits.

- Projects involving site and landscaping improvements require a Performance Guaranty, as an assurance that the work will be completed. This guarantee involves the submittal of a performance bond, letter of credit or cash payment for 125% of estimated site and landscaping costs.
- In some cases, other permits are required based on the scope of work (e.g. stormwater, sidewalk closures, grant of privilege, etc.). Planning Division staff can direct you to the proper department to obtain these permits.

- ✓ ITEM TO COMPLETE: Submit completed Planning Application with copies of plans and required fees.

APPLY FOR & ACQUIRE BUILDING PERMITS

Building Permits are required when certain work is to be performed that modifies, converts or expands a property or the project involves entirely new construction.

Permits are required to ensure building codes are met. Codes are designed to protect people's health, safety, and welfare inside your building and in neighboring buildings. When a building reaches a certain size (50,000 cubic feet) an architect or engineer is required by state law to design your modifications. The state also requires that certain contractors be licensed to do work.

BUILDING MODIFICATIONS

For building modifications, a Building Permit Application is required to be submitted to the Building Inspection and Neighborhood Services Department. Applications are considered following the submittal of four hard copies and one electronic copy of plans, completed applications and forms and other supporting documentation as necessary for your project. The typical review and comment period is 8 to 10 business days. Permits are required for the following:

- Building Interior Alterations; including new, removed, and relocated walls, doors, windows, or other building elements
- Electrical; work including new, removed or relocated lights, outlets, or equipment
- Plumbing; work including new, removed, or relocated sinks, toilets drains, grease traps, or other fixtures
- Sprinkler systems, fire alarms, or other life safety measures
- Low Voltage Electrical; including cable, phone, or data wiring
- Exterior building modifications, which typically requires: Site Landscaping and Architectural Review (see previous page).

- ☑ ITEM TO COMPLETE: Submit completed Building Permit Application with copies of plans and fee.

APPLY FOR & OBTAIN SIGNAGE PERMITS

Signage is important to a business, and it also enhances the aesthetics of the City's commercial corridors. Signage codes and design standards vary by community. To maintain balance, the City of West Allis adopted a signage code that allows various types and sizes of signs. With few exceptions, all signs require a signage permit that requires approval from the Planning Division, and in some cases, the Plan Commission. A Sign Plan must be submitted and approved before installation.

Please be advised you may also need to hire a sign contractor. Sign Permit Applications should be submitted to the Planning Division of the Department of Development for design review relating to conformance of size, design, and placement. The application should be submitted along with one paper or electronic copy of the Sign Plan detailing the proposed sign's dimensions, location, and materials, as well as details of the existing signage. Sign Permit fees are based on size. (See Fee Schedule on page 15). Typical Design Review takes 5-10 business days. After Design Review approval, plans are routed to Building Inspections and Neighborhood Services for technical review and Sign Permit insurance.

An application for a new Sign Plan will also include a review of any existing signs. All non-conforming signs, such as pole or pylon signs, will be required to be removed and brought into conformance, if desired to remain.

TEMPORARY SIGNAGE

Temporary signs are a great way to announce a special or an event. The Building Inspections and Neighborhood Services Department is responsible for approving temporary signs.

- Temporary Signage may be applied for directly through the Building Inspections and Neighborhood Services Department
- Businesses are allowed up to two temporary signs per year, for 30 days each
- Temporary Sign Permits are $50

The type of food related permit issued for a business is defined by state statutes, and a representative from the Health Department will conduct an assessment to classify your business. The list of fees below is for new establishments moving into an existing restaurant or retail food space with minimal or no remodeling. Food or retail establishments erecting a new building or undergoing substantial remodeling will require additional fees. Please contact the West Allis Health Department to discuss fee totals and the application process. Note: if a scale or other measuring device is used, a weights and measures permit is required, in addition to the food license.
