What is Mediation?

Mediation is a process that assists people in resolving conflicts or disputes. The mediation session offers people the opportunity to create their own mutually agreeable solutions with the assistance of a trained, impartial third party - a mediator. The mediator doesn't make decisions for the people involved or determine who is right or wrong. Mediation is not a court hearing or a counseling session.

Mediation sessions are casual, yet structured discussions to help clarify the issues and move towards agreement. Parties are given the opportunity to speak without interruption. If an agreement is reached, it may be written down and signed by the parties. Before participating in a mediation session, the parties should think about possible solutions to the problem.
